$3,319,000,000 for Airplanes Asked by President in Letter

Sends Request to House While Working on To- night Address

Washington, May 27.—(AP)—In the midst of preparing a momentous pronouncement on governmental policy, President Roosevelt asked congress today for $3,319,000,000 in appropriations for more airplanes.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, told reporters that the chief executive would extend his fireside chat tonight an extra 15 minutes and asserted:

"I think you can say that by Wednesday morning there can no longer be any doubt as to what the national policy of this government is. I think I'll just stand on that."

Early announced that the request for huge new funds for planes was being sent to Capitol Hill in a letter to Speaker Rayburn.

Of the total, $2,790,000,000 would be for the army and $529,000,000 for the navy.

Early declined to estimate the number of planes to be ordered with the money or to say whether bombers would be emphasized.

Nor would he go into any detail on the possible contents of the presidential address tonight. He said, however, that it had been cut and worked over and eliminations and additions made until it had reached the point where it could not very well be fitted into the original 30 minutes for which it was scheduled.

Accordingly, Early is asking broadcasting companies, which will transmit Roosevelt's words to the entire world, for a 15-minute extension of time.

Most Significant
Again today, Early offered no discouragement to reports that the address would probably be one of the most significant ever delivered by the chief executive.

Early was unwilling to discuss, however, articles saying Roosevelt was prepared to insist on freedom of the seas.

One of the reasons the president has spent so much time on preparation of the address—he has devoted more attention to it than any Early could remember—was said to be that he was endeavoring to read much of the tremendous volume of mail and telegrams that is deluging the White House.

Early said that 12,000 to 14,000 letters and telegrams were arriving each day but that it was impossible to tabulate them so as to get an accurate breakdown of public opinion.

From Extremists
The mail and messages range from one extreme to the other.

The president planned to devote most of his day to the address, and the White House indicated that it would take into consideration virtually any major change in international affairs occurring before 8:30 p. m. (C. S. T.) when he speaks by radio.

An all-network transmission will carry the president's words to the four corners of the nation, and a world-wide short wave relay will broadcast the address to other lands. In addition to the direct English relay, there will be translations in French, German, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese.

The White House yielded no hints as to the exact subject of the speech.

Highly-placed officials were of the opinion that one portion of the address would contain a demand for more active aid to Britain, regardless of axis threats. Other quarters looked for a vigorous pronouncement on foreign policy, possibly, coupled with a formal assertion of the historic American doctrine of freedom of seas.

Press Comment in Berlin
It was noted that Adolf Hitler's own newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, devoted a leading article yesterday to discussing the American idea of freedom of the seas. The article asserted that at the end of the war the German fleet would be the "guarantor of what until now has only been a misused slogan."

Whatever the contents of the "fireside chat," the President has received no end of volunteered advice and suggestions. They ranged from appeals for convoys to recommendations that he seek to effect a negotiated peace. In the field of domestic affairs, demands have centered on the need for a policy that would end the defense production stoppages due to strikes.

The suggestions apparently would continue until tonight. One group of opposition legislators collaborated today on a last-minute letter urging the chief executive to say nothing which would have the effect of putting the country into war "without the approval

Four Youths Hurt in Auto Accident at Hart's Corner

Three of four young people returning to Savanna after attending the dance at the Dixon Armory last night suffered severe injuries when the automobile in which they were riding which was driven by Frank Herbert, 23, of Savanna, left the Lincoln highway pavement a short distance west of Hart's corner, about three miles west of Dixon, at 2:00 o'clock this morning, crashed into an east-bound Greyhound bus and then rolled over several times into the ditch at the north side of the highway.

Herbert was the most seriously injured, suffering a fracture of the skull, concussion of the brain, internal injuries and severe scalp and head lacerations.

Others Injured
His companions were Thomas Ballas, 20, Ford auto dealer at Savanna, who was thrown clear of the car and escaped injury; Miss Shirley Vincent, 20, of 2753 North Fifth street, Clinton, Ia., who sustained a fracture of the left leg and face and head lacerations; and Miss Marjorie Schoening, 19, of Miles, Ia., whose injuries consisted of scalp and face lacerations and a back injury.

The victims were ordered taken to the Sterling hospital by Sergeant Edward Mahan of the state police, and he had the badly wrecked car hauled to a Dixon garage.

Sgt. Mahan learned that when the young people's car first left the pavement it was pulled back onto the concrete by the driver.

Miss Hiland Quits Faculty Position

Miss Helen Hiland, who has served for the past four years as social science and girls' physical education teacher at Dixon high school has resigned her position. It was learned today and will leave at the end of the present term.

Miss Hiland, a graduate of DeKalb State Teachers' college, has been regarded as an outstanding instructor for many improvements in her department at Dixon high school. She has also served as sponsor of the Girls' Athletic association, an organization of about 125 students under her supervision.

During the summer here Miss Hiland organized and served as director of the city's supervised playgrounds which are sponsored each year by the Dixon Park Commission. Miss Mary Trombald will succeed her in this capacity.

Expect 11,000 Illinois Young Men to Be Called to Service Next Month

Springfield, Ill., May 27.—(AP)—Approximately 66,000 young men who have become 21 years old since October 16 or will reach that age during the next five weeks will register in Illinois in the second selective service military training draft registration July 1.

Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service, estimated that 32,000 registrants will be added to the draft rolls downstate and 34,000 in Cook county. In the nation, draft officials said, some 1,100,000 youths will be enrolled for possible military service.

President Roosevelt ordered the second registration yesterday. It will be conducted by the selective

Green Signs Eight Bills Into Laws as Assembly Convenes

Cigaret Tax Bill May Come to Vote in Up- per House Tomorrow

Springfield, Ill., May 27.—(AP)—Legislation to permit women to serve on grand juries was passed by the Illinois house today and sent to the senate for emergency action.

The bill was introduced two weeks ago by Rep. Francis Coyle (D-Rock Island) and rushed through the house after a McDonough county Circuit judge held that the 1939 law permitting women to serve on juries did not include grand jury service.

There was no debate after Rep. Coyle asked for favorable action "to straighten out this situation where some circuit judges have permitted women to serve on grand juries and others have not." The bill passed by a vote of 130 to 0.

The law enacted in 1939 mentioned only petit juries in permitting women to serve and several judges have since ruled that women are excluded from grand jury service because there is no specific provision in the law.

The house also passed and sent to the senate the O'Neill teachers' tenure bill, providing for hearings before school boards before teachers can be dismissed after more than two years service.

For Superhighways
The Sprague-McCabe bill to build superhighways in the Chicago area by charging motorists tolls for use of the high speed roads was sent to the senate today after passage by the house.

The lower chamber voted 87 to 27 last night for the measure which will permit issuance of an estimated $30,000,000 in bonds to construct the fast highways which will cut driving time between the suburbs and Chicago's loop.

Motorists would be charged tolls—one legislator estimated during hearings that the charges probably would run from 10 cents to 25 cents—to retire the bonds. Backers of the toll highway plan, including the Cook county highway department, are hopeful of obtaining a Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan for the project, if it is approved by the state senate and the governor.

A two-member authority appointed by the mayor of Chicago and the Cook county board would supervise construction and use of the superhighways.

Cigaret Tax Up
The senate was expected to pass the revised cigarette tax bill before recess this week, thus completing the administration's taxation program.

The cigarette tax measure, passed by the house last week, moved last night to second reading, the amendment stage, in the senate, where it was expected the bill would be called for a final vote tomorrow.

Proclamation

"There is need for safety education in Dixon as well as in any other community. We must remember the hazards on the streets and highways and in the home are a continuous menace to our lives and property."

"I therefore proclaim that the week of June 9th to 14th be set aside as Dixon Safety Week, during which time our citizens will be given the opportunity, through the campaign conducted by the police department and the Evening Telegraph, to become better acquainted with measures which may be taken for their safety on the streets and in their homes, that they may more intelligently and for their own protection be enabled to cooperate fully with all that is being done and taught for their benefit."

William V. Slothower, Mayor of Dixon

Expect 11,000 Illinois Young Men to Be Called to Service Next Month

Officials said the July 1 registrants probably would be drawn upon for induction after present registration lists have been exhausted.

The state's June draft quota, Director Armstrong said, was expected to jump to approximately 11,000 after a sharp reduction to 3,754 inductions during May. The previous high month for inductions in Illinois was April when 7,400 were sent into the army.

Armstrong said the May induction drop was caused by lack of facilities for men in army camps of the southwestern section of the country, but that camp capacities were being increased.

Vast Fortune in Freight Is Saved from Flames Today

Jersey City, N. J., May 27.—One man lost his life while five car floats and 25 loaded freight cars burned in a New York harbor pier fire today.

Flames started on flat cars laden with creosoted piling and swept over half of the 820-foot pier, but the fast work of more than 500 railroaders and firemen saved a vast fortune in freight.

Engineers and brakemen coupled onto even burning cars and pulled them into the yard; tugboat skippers hastily hauled barges to safety; nearly 30 fire companies responded to three alarms; two fireboats from New York, four coast guard and 14 tugs joined them.

The dead man was identified as William J. Minnock, watchman on the Adrian R., one of the barges which was burned.

There was no immediate estimate of the property loss. Police suggested a locomotive spark might have started the fire.

The piers and open wharves adjoining are just south of Black Tom, scene of a historic World War explosion and fire.

They are in the Greenville terminal, major freight yard for New York in the Pennsylvania system. Nearly two miles south-southwest of the Statue of Liberty, they are just north of the Bayonne City line.

Heagy Given Contract to Construct Culvert

D. L. Heagy of this city was awarded the contract for the construction of a cement culvert at Whitney's corners in China township at a meeting of the road and bridge committee of the Lee county board of supervisors yesterday. Two contractors submitted bids for the improvement, which is to be paid for jointly by the township and county as follows: Heagy, $2,705.47 and Mark D. Smith and Son, $3,048.30.

The committee rejected all bids submitted for the county wide gravel program for the season, and voted to re-advertise for bids which are to be submitted June 4. The committee men and County Superintendent of Highways Fred Leake were today inspecting bridges, culverts and roads throughout the county.

Official Story of Retaliation by British Navy

Bismark Caught Enroute to a French Port

(By The Associated Press)

London, May 27.—Germany's proud new battleship Bismark, crippled and staggering in wild circles under the blows of aerial torpedoes, was sunk today by the combined might of the British navy and its air force in full revenge for destruction of the battle cruiser Hood.

At 11 o'clock this morning, three days after the Hood had been blown to bits by a hit in the magazine from one of the Bismark's 15-inch shells, the 35,000-ton Bismark herself settled under the surface of the Atlantic. Down with her went some 1,300 men, a great German Admiral, Gunther Luetjens, and about one-fourth of Germany's known capital ship strength.

The 9,975-ton British cruiser Dorsetshire rammed home torpedoes which finished off the Bismark after she had been shelled into helplessness by British "heavy ships" and destroyers.

The Admiralty, in a long communique describing the chase and destruction of the Bismark, said the Nazi battleship had been slowed down to a speed of about eight knots after being hit by two aerial torpedoes and two torpedoes from British warships.

Participating in the kill were the torpedo planes of the fleet air arm, based on the aircraft carrier Ark Royal, and the new 35,000-ton battleship Prince of Wales.

But it was an American-made Catalina that hunted down the quarry Monday and led the killers to her, so torpedo after torpedo might be shot into her vitals from the air.

Officials Give Story

Prime Minister Winston Churchill and First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander gave the nation the story of the Bismark's destruction—but they disclosed, too, the loss of two cruisers, the Gloucester and Fiji; the sinking of four destroyers and the damaging of two battleships and several other cruisers of the Mediterranean fleet in the raging battle for Crete.

Yet they were able to say that the fleet, even so, numbered, has thus far prevented sea-borne German forces from reaching Crete and has covered the safe arrival of reinforcements for the British-Greek defenders of the island.

For the nation the sinking of the Bismark, however, was the real news.

Deserted by Escort
It was just three days after the 42,100-ton Hood was blasted to pieces between Iceland and Greenland that the units of the Royal Navy, including the new 35,000-ton battleship Prince of Wales, caught up with her as she tried to make a French port, Brest or St. Nazaire.

She had been deserted by the escorting cruiser Prince Eugen, one of Germany's three cruisers of the 10,000-ton Hipper class, the British asserted.

"Measures are being taken with respect to the Eugen", one of Germany's most powerful cruisers, an official statement said.

The British disclosed that the Bismark eluded her pursuers once Saturday night in bad weather.

Long Live Hitler' Final Words from Wounded Warship

Berlin, May 27.—(AP)—It was officially announced today that the battleship Bismark was sunk this morning.

Just before this announcement was issued the high command said the 35,000-ton battleship, conqueror of Britain's Hood, had been incapacitated but that word from the ship said "we are fighting to the last grenade."

It was said that the speed of the Bismark had been reduced by a hit in the prow in the battle in which she sank the battle cruiser Hood while later in the same day she was hit by an aerial torpedo, still further cutting her speed.

(The Berlin radio, heard in New York, said the Bismark was hit by two aerial torpedoes on Monday and her rudder and propellers were damaged.)

"The ship continued to fight until the morning of May 27, when it succumbed to superior enemy numbers," the broadcast continued.

"The last wireless message received reads: 'Ship out of control. Will fight to the last shell. Long live the Fuehrer!'"

Russia Holds Whip Hand, Says Krebs

Washington, May 27.—(AP)—Richard Krebs, German author and former Communist, told the house committee on un-American activities today that "Communist organizations make all possible efforts to obstruct United States shipments of supplies to Great Britain."

Moscow holds the "whip hand", he asserted, because "no ship sails that does not have abroad a Communist unit."

Earlier, he told the committee that Tommy Ray, whom he identified as a Communist leader, is the "real leader" of the National Maritime Union. He said Ray was selected as speaker for the Communist party at a world maritime congress in Hamburg in 1932. He termed Joseph Curran, N. M. U. president, a "marionette" for Ray, who, he said, had been sent to do party work in the West Indies.

Krebs, who wrote a book "Out of the Night", under the pen name of Jan Valtin, told how he had sent $40,000 from Hamburg, Germany, to George Mink, who he said was a former Philadelphia taxicab driver in 1930 for Communist work in United States ports.

In 1933, he added he sent from $300 to $400 monthly to Mink's successor.

VISIT LIEUTENANT WOLF

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Barriage returned home at noon today from a several days motor trip through the south. They visited with Captain Gus Wimpelberg at Camp Forrest, Tenn., and then proceeded to Columbus, Ga., where they visited with Lieutenant Wayne Wolf and family. Lieut. Wolf is attending a special officer's training course at Fort Benning, near Columbus.

France Pledges Retention of Navy and Colonies in Note to Sec. Hull

Washington, May 27.—(AP)—The French government gave renewed assurances in writing today to the United States that the French fleet and colonies would not be surrendered to Germany or any other power.

A note containing specific guarantees was delivered by the French Ambassador, Gaston Henry-Haye, to Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State.

The note, the ambassador told reporters, was drafted by him on instructions from the Vichy government. It was intended to remove misgivings here on the scope of French-German collaboration.

The French acted apparently in conformity with a request last week by Secretary of State Hull that the Vichy government should define its position clearly in writing if it wished to convince the world that pro-Hitler elements were not in supreme control at Vichy.

Henry-Haye declined to disclose full details of the note but he told reporters:

"We hope that it will be a disappointment to those people who are trying to disturb Franco-American relations."

Destroyer of Hood Sent to Bottom at Early Hour Today

Spotted in Flight By American-Made Air- plane Last Eve

By The Associated Press
Germany's new 35,000-ton battleship Bismark, trapped by overwhelming guns of the British fleet and the torpedoes of darting planes, was sent to the bottom of the North Atlantic after a 3-day hunt at 11 a. m. (3 a. m., C. S. T.) today even as her guns still blazed and her radio sent a last message home, "Long live the Fuehrer!"

With her swastika flag flying to the end, the big German raider fell victim to what the British described as "the whole apparatus of our ocean control" in a pitched battle some 400 miles west of Brest, France.

Thus did Britain's Royal Navy repay the greatest blow to its pride since the war began—the sinking on Saturday of the 42,100-ton battleship Hood, the world's largest fighting craft, with the loss of approximately 1,300 officers and men, in a fight with the Bismark off Greenland.

Overtaking the German man o'war as she reeled in uncontrollable circles, her rudder and propellers smashed by aerial torpedoes, the British fleet delivered the coup de grace and closed one of the greatest naval chapters in history.

Ironically, the planes which struck the mortal blow were from the aircraft carrier Ark Royal, often reported by the Germans to have been sunk.

Accounts varied whether the giant battleship was actually sunk by gunfire or air-launched torpedoes.

Possibly both struck simultaneously, with planes diving again and again to hurl their torpedoes into the Bismark's vitals while the Prince of Wales and other British warships poured a tempest of fire into the German raider, floundering helplessly in the sunlit waters.

The German high command said the Bismark went down under attack by planes and three British battleships, numerous cruisers and destroyers.

Admiral Gunther Luetjens and Captain Lindemann of the Bismark, along with an undisclosed number of the crew, lost their lives.

Another Big Headline
Britons found another big headline in reports from Greek sources in Cairo that 18,000 Germans have lost their lives so far in the aerial invasion of Crete, including 5,000 drowned at sea.

Hitler's high command said the Bismark was crippled at 9 p. m. last night, 400 miles west of Brest, when she was hit by two plane-launched torpedoes, smashing her rudder and propellers.

"In the battle against gradually increasing strength of enemy naval forces, the battleship Bismark fought on," the Nazi high command said, "until finally on the morning of May 27 it fell victim to superior strength."

The fleeing Nazi raider was reported heading for refuge from pursuing British warships in a French port, either Brest or St. Nazaire, when torpedo-carrying carrier Ark Royal sent her to the bottom—the first battleship ever reported sunk by aerial attack.

Spotter American-Made
An American-made Catalina plane was credited with first spotting the Bismark, bringing other planes and British warships to deliver the coup de grace to the already twice-wounded German craft.

39 Survivors of British Steamer Rescued at Sea

Washington, May 27.—(AP)—The Coast Guard and navy reported today that 39 survivors of the British steamer Marconi had been rescued by the coast guard cutter General Green, about 270 miles south-east of Greenland.

The navy reported that about 40 more crew members—the Coast Guard said 60—of the Marconi were believed drifting in two lifeboats in heavy fog in the same vicinity. The Coast Guard cutter was searching for them.

The navy's information did not state the manner of the Marconi's sinking, but the Coast Guard radio report declared she was torpedoed yesterday.

There was no indication that any passengers were aboard the Marconi, a freight and passenger vessel. The ship's port of registry was Liverpool, England.

ULSTER ESCAPES DRAFT

London, May 27.—(AP)—Conscription for military services will not be extended to northern Ireland, authoritative British sources said today.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

Several months ago one of my good friends told me frankly that he thought I was writing too much about how they were raising chickens down East.

Yesterday I spent several hours with him. He had just come back from Delaware and he could talk of nothing else! "The first day I was there a man took me out and showed me a quarter of a million chickens in an hour and a half. And we never got over 5 miles from where we started!"

"Another day we took a boat out to a little island. It's 6 miles long and a mile wide. Every year they raise about 3 million chickens on that island!"

I suggested he must have been seeing double about that time. "I knew you wouldn't believe it," he said. "No Middle Westerner could—until he saw it. But I took movies and I'll show you. You never saw so many chickens in your life!"

I sat back and listened. This was the man who had considered my "Eastern chicken stories" in just about the same class as fish stories!

"Look at this house," he said, pulling a snapshot out of his pocket. "It's 1600 feet long—a chicken house! I couldn't even get all of it in the picture! They've got two houses like that on this one farm—both brand new. I was there when they put in the first bunch of chicks. They've got room for 76,000!"

Wool Pool Will Be Provided By Ogle County Farm Bureau

Ogle County Farm Bureau members are advised by the Farm Bureau office that a wool pool will be provided for those who wish to consign their wool to the cooperative marketing agency for sale. It is said that an announcement will be made in the near future as to the time and place where the wool will be assembled. This service of the Farm Bureau is available to members only.

Last year according to estimates from the Farm Bureau office, growers who cooperated in selling their wool through the pool received about 3 cents per pound more than those who sold locally.

Horse Show to Be Held At Mt. Carroll June 1

The Mt. Carroll Horsemen's association has announced the first horse show of the 1941 season, to be held at the beautiful Argyle horse farm, owned by Samuel J. Campbell, Sunday, June 1, starting at 1 o'clock.

A record list of entries have been received to date and a large number from Dixon and vicinity are planning to attend. Last year, despite a steady downfall of rain, a huge crowd attended the Mt. Carroll show from throughout Illinois and surrounding states. A number of new features are included in next Sunday's program.

NEW QUALITY EGG PLAN MAY SOON BE STARTED IN STATE

Illinois poultry flock owners, by striving for better breeding, housing, marketing, feeding and management not only can aid in the food-for-defense program but can also obtain more efficient production of quality eggs and poultry.

Believes H. H. Alp, extension poultry specialist of the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Increased industrial activity, higher consumer incomes, renewed interest in foods for health and defense programs and the recent action of the government in making poultry and egg purchases to support egg prices at 22 cents a dozen and hen prices at 15 cents a pound will have a tendency to boost interest in poultry production, according to Alp.

There is under consideration in Illinois a plan whereby producers of good eggs will be given an opportunity to sell eggs on the basis of quality. This plan, if carried out, will begin shortly in about 40 counties and will be extended to others as soon as a sufficient volume of quality eggs can be assembled within a given area.

Should this program go through, many Illinois egg producers will have an opportunity to sell eggs on the basis of grade, and the establishment of such a market should do much to increase the number of quality eggs produced in Illinois, Alp said.

Regardless of the economic situation and the food-for-defense program, Alp is of the opinion that poultrymen should keep in mind that profitable poultry production depends upon plenty of experience, adequate equipment and sufficient genuine interest in poultry management.

LEGUMES, GRASS TAKE PLACE OF CORN AS SILAGE

Legumes and grass keep "crowding out" corn in the silos of Harry N. Fox on his farm three miles south of here.

Each year Fox feeds the legume-grass silage to about 60 head of cattle that clean it up just as well as they ever did corn silage.

Fox started ensiling grass and legumes in 1938 when he put in four acres of mixed legumes, four acres of straight alfalfa and eleven acres of mixed grasses. This material kept and fed out so well that he has been using grass and legumes in his silos every year since then.

"I haven't ever had any trouble about it keeping, as we try to put on about the recommended amount of molasses," Fox said. This year he used between 50 and 60 pounds of molasses for each ton of silage.

Uses Increased Roughage

Ensiling grass and legumes helps utilize the increased amount of roughages resulting from increased yields and shifting of some cultivated land to pasture crops, as part of the soil conservation program that Fox has been carrying out in cooperation with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

"Corn silage has slightly more fattening qualities, while the legume and grass silage has more growth qualities," Fox said. "However, we fatten our cattle on the legume and grass silage very satisfactorily. More protein and minerals are available in the legume than in the corn silage."

"A good clover crop will yield about the same as an equal acreage of corn for ensilage," he continued, "and you don't have to cultivate the ensilage material from hay or pasture land."

Fox uses a combination hay chopper and silo filler with a home-made attachment for adding the molasses.

"Ensiling is a good way to take care of coarse, rank hay," he said, "especially first-cutting alfalfa, which usually comes along with wet weather. I have even put partly cured clover hay into the silo after it was rained on. Even though it was still wet, it resulted in good feed."

In feeding experiments conducted at the university by R. R. Snapp, professor of beef cattle, it has been found that the value of grass and legume is considerably below that of corn silage. Nevertheless, according to Prof. Snapp, some very good farmers consider grass and legume silage a valuable feed.

Small Surplus of Corn is Available In Ogle County

Estimates given by Farm Adviser D. E. Warren of Ogle county to J. C. Spitzer, assistant Director of Agricultural Extension at the College of Agriculture regarding the amount of corn on hand in Ogle county for meeting the needs of feeders shows that the supply and the need are pretty well in balance with a small surplus available for sale.

Figures from the county AAA show 457,993 bushels of corn sealed on farms and 651,000 bushels of corn sealed and belonging to the Commodity Credit Corporation. This together with an estimated 2,203,000 bushels of corn on farms and not sealed makes a total available corn supply in Ogle county of 3,202,000 bushels. Estimates made of corn needed to feed all classes of livestock till October 1 amounts to 3,232,000 bushels leaving a surplus of 60,000 bushels.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture says that American farmers who cooperated in the 1940 AAA program received a net return of nearly 80 cents a bushel for their wheat. ## Boy Scout News

New Troop Formed—Several members of the Boy Scout troop now applying for a charter for Bethel U. E. church went on an auto hike Saturday afternoon. The Rev. R. S. Wilson, the scoutmaster, accompanied the boys and several places of interest were visited including Franklin creek, and Camp Lowden. The warm sun made some swimming enjoyable, as well as some other interesting experiences. Recently several members of the troop went on a swimming trip to the Freeport Y. M. C. A.

The troop meets every Thursday evening at 7 p. m. at the Bethel church located at N. Galena and Morgan street. There is still opportunity to join the troop and become a charter member. Membership is open to boys over twelve years of age from any church, and from any section of the city. Gerald Lester has been elected first Patrol Leader, and Junior Gardner and Lehman Forman have been elected scribes. At the last meeting, Arthur Hoey, member of the troop committee talked about first aid.

EARLY HORSE

The history of horses is traceable back to the Tertiary geological period. At that time, there existed a tiny fox-like creature whose several toes helped it to get about on soft, swampy ground, and from this animal evolved the modern horse.

James Farley Is On The Same Old Merry-Go-Round

Former Postmaster General Farley Has Only "Fishbowl Privacy"

By DON WHITEHEAD
New York—(The Special News Service)—There is no privacy for Private Citizen James A. Farley. Although he has been out of the national limelight for eight months, the big fellow has about as much chance for obscurity as a movie idol on Broadway.

He's reveling in his role as a big businessman and enjoying his new freedom from the pressure of eight terrific years as Democratic national chairman and postmaster general.

He has no regrets, he says, over climbing outside the ropes of the political arena, while his family is delighted to have him once again as a more or less stable member of the household instead of a once-in-a-while visitor between hops about the country at the rate of 50,000 miles a year.

But nevertheless Jim Farley still belongs to the people and his office would look like a Convention Hall today if all those trying to see him were permitted past his efficient secretary.

Shielded From Callers
They shield him from a horde of callers—job hunters, fellows who met "good old Jim" at a political rally back in Podunk Center, publicity seekers, panhandlers and scores of others who have no legitimate reasons for a call.

Even then, he receives dozens of callers—businessmen, politicians, prizefighters, baseball players, and just plain folks. He carries on a tremendous personal correspondence with his political friends in every state in the union who continue to keep him advised on the national situation.

He couldn't entirely shake loose from his political bonds if he wanted to, because of the close personal ties he formed throughout the years as ringmaster of the Democratic political circus.

But those years in Washington—beating the Roosevelt drum, keeping a finger on the nation's voting pulse, ironing out intra-party strife, and flying across the continent just to make a speech at a post office dedication—gave him a financial beating.

Now he's trying to recoup his losses.

Blonde Receptionist
Those with an appointment to see Farley these days are told by the blonde receptionist to have a seat, please, and Mr. Farley will see you in a few minutes.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriotism who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and opposed, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

A Thought for Today

I will smite them with the pestilence, and disinherit them, and will make of thee
a greater nation and mightier than they.— Numbers 14:12.

That is the bitterest of all—to wear the yoke of our own wrong-doing.—George Eliot.

Crete, a Proving Ground

No matter what nazis and British may say about the experiment conducted in Crete, the average will find it hard to resist comparing the affair with what might happen in event of an attempted nazi invasion of England.

Whether the reasoning be sound or not, it will be hard to convince observers that if the nazis can conquer Crete by means of parachute troops, glider troops and air and sea-borne attackers, they can also make a dent in the defenses of England.

It is fair to suggest, however, that the nazis can make a more vicious assault on English territory than they can make against Crete because Crete is farther away from nazi bases. Further, the English can make a better defense of England than they could of Crete because England is on much the larger island and has infinitely more defending troops and defensive materials.

The British might, for strategic reasons unknown to the amateur strategist, see fit to let Crete go by default, after putting up a decent fight.
But England is the capstone of defense. If Crete is lost, then Crete is lost. But if England is lost, then the war's history as we have watched it since the beginning, is well-nigh written.

Judging by utterances of British statesmen, they are prepared to continue the fight even if Crete and the entire Mediterranean are taken over by the nazis. They are even reconciled to the possible loss of the Suez and Gibraltar.

But even so, if the nazis can take over Crete

after an initial landing of only foot soldiers, then a new chapter will have been written in the art of warfare. The victory will not prove that England can be taken by similar means, but it will make the British more watchful and thorough in drilling their reception committee under the chalk cliffs.

How About Waste?

In one of his recent columns, David Lawrence pointed out a great and often overlooked danger in the government's present spending program.

"Drastic taxation—the most severe America has ever experienced—is planned," he wrote. "And yet not a word is heard about cutting out wasteful expenditures."

"If the American people submit to a tax program such as is being rightly proposed to finance defense and still permit spending-as-usual on projects that can be omitted or else postponed, it will mean that the day of reckoning will bring an economic depression in the United States far more perilous than that of 1929-33 . . .

"Scarcely a week passes that there isn't some impetus given to projects which are being planned on a big scale which have relatively little to do with defense, but which are being dragged into the picture with defense as an excuse . . . Only an alert and aroused public opinion can do something about it—and maybe the nation will have to organize its own economy campaign and make it an issue in the congressional elections of 1942."

Mr. Lawrence doesn't just criticize—he points to definite places where major cuts in government spending are both possible and desirable. There is, for instance, the proposal that $450,000,000 be spent on farm subsidy payments—a boost of $238,000,000 over last year. There is the fact that some $1,000,- 000,000 a year is still being spent for relief, even though employment is at the highest level in our history and in many sections there is a serious labor shortage. There is the fact that strong forces are behind measures to spend hundreds of millions of dollars on the St. Lawrence and other socialized power projects, despite the undeniable evidence which shows that the existing private utility industry is 100 per cent ready and able to meet all present and prospective power needs—and to develop and build new facilities with private money, not with tax money. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has just passed resolutions asking that at least $2,000,000,000 be saved annually by curtailing non-defense spending, and devoting this money to defense needs, holding down debt or tax requirements by that amount.

Mr. Lawrence goes to the heart of the matter when he says that only the American people can do anything about this situation. They are willing to spend any amount necessary for defense. Are they willing to make unprecedented tax and debt sacrifices merely to pay for political luxuries, for experiments in state socialism, for a bigger and bigger bureaucracy, or for any activity which is not absolutely unavoidable? Governmental waste at this time is a certain guarantee of an unprecedented economic and social collapse at some future time.

We've decided that jazz music was discovered

ond-hand auto.

the home of the brave but the land of the freed.

would work for the enlightenment of the house ways and means committee. The legislators scratched their heads liberally, but thought they understood.

Next day Sullivan discovered, much to his amazement, that the way he had worked the examples of some hypothetical corporations out for the congressmen, the corporations would pay less under the new plan than they are paying now. That could not be right. Technical assistants (the only ones who really know) were summoned. They showed Sullivan he had made several mistakes in working out the examples. He had overlooked some calculations.

While it may sound extraordinary that the author of the plan did not know how it would work, such mistakes are not difficult to make.
Sullivan devised the policy,
left technicalities to his experts. His boss, Morgenthau, probably understands the details far less, and Roosevelt probably not at all.

Personally I am unable to enjoy this laugh on Sullivan, as some readers of this column are free to enjoy the same one on me. In z recent column I figured the tax would hit the largest corporations hardest, but readers have correctly contradicted this assertion.
Such companies as DuPont and Sears Roebuck, with huge capitalizations, are afforded a comparatively low earnings ration, and thus escape the severity of the proposed capitalization yardstick.
A further indication that small and medium business would bear the brunt of the scheme will be found in a Twentieth Century Fund publication, "How Profitable Is Big Business?" A survey printed therein shows that 27.5 per cent of American corporations are capitalized at less than $50,- 000, while only 9.7 per cent have a capitalization of more than $50,- 000,000.

The only thing sure in all these tax discussions so far is that the complexities demand love, and careful consideration—and this the house ways and means committee proposed to furnish. The bill will not be out of committee for six weeks, and then probably not in the form the treasury recommended.

A direct check made by a government official last week showed no Germans in Kaker, or even in Morocco, with the exception of an armistice mission in the latter area. The nazis are waiting to clean up the eastern Mediterranean before they reach for the western end of what apparently is to become more nazi, for a while,
at least.

The French are quite strongly entrenched in Dakar. If the British of the U. S. attempt to take it, the French would certainly call for German reinforcements, and get some Stukas through Tunisia (the way Darian let them be sent into Libya). Our military men do not believe in occupation by us would be feasible without months of preparation.

These facts should be whispered quietly into the ear of Senator Pepper, some administration men say, so he will stop hollering for Roosevelt to seize Dakar. Unless such talk is stopped the Germans may believe they should get in first and thereupon seize the strategic spot forthwith.

Apparently many propa-gandists assuming the role of amateur military strategists, are guessing in their talks,
at what they suspect Roosevelt will do like. They are trying to anticipate and please him, not always confining themselves to what they have been told to say. Around the war and navy, even the state department, considerable resentment can be heard.

You will not be able to measure the strategic value of Crete to the nazis by judging its airline distance to the Suez and the British naval base in Alexandria. The Germans at Tobruk are closer to both spots now. But in Crete they will have a protected line of supplies for more planes, gas and oil back through Greece to Berlin.

More than 100 nazi planes of all types are already in Mosul area, enlarging the air fields for bomber takeoffs. If the air fields in Crete are similarly prepared by the nazis, that end of the Mediterranean will become quite hot for the British fleet. Withdrawal may become necessary.

Then will come Gibraltar,
Spain, Portugal and northwest Africa—but all this is not Britain or the North Atlantic.

Conservation Head Denies Charges of Sportsmen's Clubs

Issues Statement in Defense of Governor
Green's Action

Springfield, Ill., May 27—(AP)— Conservation Director Livingston E. Osborne, answering critics of the administration's conservation program, announced today that Governor Green plans to appoint a six-man advisory commission for the department "in the near future".

Osborne denied charges of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs that the governor "had failed to keep his campaign promises to the sportsmen of Illinois" and asserted that officers of the federation "are trying to run this department".

"The main contention is one point of the program in which Governor Green advocated a six-man non-political commission to generally supervise the affairs of the department", Osborne said in a statement.

"These individuals are now complaining that Governor Green promised them a commission and has failed to keep his promise.
He did promise the sportsmen and advisory commission and plans to appoint such a commission in the near future, but never entertained the thought of a commission which would have the authority to fire and hire the director at will. Governor Green was approached with such a proposal but refused on the basis that he felt he should directly assume the responsibility for the actions of his cabinet members".

Osborne quoted from bulletins of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs that charged that the administration had shown itself opposed to civil service by discharging game wardens who had passed civil service examinations.

"That simply isn't true", Osborne said. "Those examinations were unfair and dishonest. I favor a complete new examination under the supervision of the best known authorities on the subject".

The Civil Service Commission
meets Wednesday to consider the recommendation of a legislative commission that the eligible list of those who passed civil service examinations for game wardens last year be cancelled and that new examinations be given.

Property Transfer
by Canton Woman
Set Aside Today

Chicago, May 27.—(AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed today a lower court decree setting aside a deed under which Mrs. Kathryn E. Shallenberger of Canton, Ill., transferred $2,500 in property to her husband, Dr. W.
E. Shallenberger, a physician.

A suit to declare the deed invalid was filed by Roy K. Adair, receiver for the First National Bank of Canton which closed on March 4, 1933. Mrs. Shallenberger transferred her property April 16, 1934, after the receiver had made demands for payment of a 100 per cent assessment levied against her bank stock.

The Federal court of the Southern Illinois District set aside the deed on grounds that it had been made with the intent to defraud creditors of the grantor. Mrs.
Shallenberger testified that the property actually was her husband's, that she held it since 1905 as security for a $500 loan.

Mrs. Shallenberger, against whom a judgment was obtained, pleaded inability to pay the bank assessment. She appealed to the Appellate court whose decision said "we find no justification for interference." The opinion was written by Judge Walter C. Lindley.

Woman's Club Has Spring Luncheon at Loveland House

Peonies, iris, rosebuds, syringa and foliage brought spring to the tables for the annual May luncheon of the Dixon Woman's club on Saturday. The main dining room of the Loveland Community House was the setting for the event.

A special guest table, from which seven additional tables radiated in the form of a wheel, seated Mrs. Earl Auman, who is the club president, past presidents, and other officers. Crystal candlesticks, encircled with foliage, held pink tapers, and green and white pottery jars contained pink peonies. At the guest table, each cover was marked with a corsage of rosebuds, iris and syringa, artistically arranged by Mrs. Auman.

Luncheon, served by women of St. Agnes' Guild, was followed by a brief business meeting. Afterward, Mrs. William Roat, social chairman, presented Mrs. L. N. Deutsch, who expressed the club's desire to honor Mrs. A. G. Burnham, who is the district club mother, an early club president, and a past district president. In appreciation of Mrs. Burnham's faithful interest in club activities, she was presented with a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Auman next presented a second club member to be honored, Mrs. J. Lyle Stafford, who was presented with an honorary membership in the club and a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Stafford has served as a member of the club's executive board for the past 16 years, and leaves Dixon soon to join Mr. Stafford in San Antonio, Tex.

An entertaining program followed, with Mrs. Roat presiding. Lloyd Walter played two delightful flute solos, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Dwight Chapman; J. V. Ridolf's pleasing tenor voice was heard in a group of solos, including a request number, "Come Back to Sorrento," Neapolitan folk song; Mrs. F. L. Blewfield, an accomplished reader, presented an incident in the Mason family from a novel by Bess Streeter Aldrich; and the entertainment was concluded with two solos by William Haefliger, talented young cellist, accompanied by his sister, Marie.

Mrs. Howard Edwards was at the piano for Mr. Ridolf's solos. Mrs. Blewfield prefaced her reading

Amboy Couple Is Wed Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jacobs

A large number of relatives and friends called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs in Amboy on Sunday in recognition of the couple's golden wedding anniversary. Both Mr. Jacobs and his wife were born near Javerland, Germany, and were married in Pontiac, Ill., on May 25, 1891, two days after her arrival from the fatherland.

The couple's eight children, their grandchildren and great-grandchildren were among those attending the anniversary celebration on Sunday.

ing with an account of a visit she had made to the author's home at Elmwood, Nebr.

Mrs. Auman spoke of activities of the newly-formed Junior Woman's club, and introduced the president, Miss Virginia Kline. Afterward, she introduced, in order of their seniority, the following past presidents: Mrs. A. S. Burnham, Mrs. W. T. Terrill, Mrs. Joseph Petersberger, Mrs. D. G. Palmer, Mrs. O. F. Goetz, Mrs. H. C. Bartholomew, Mrs. L. N. Deutsch, Mrs. E. H. Prince, Mrs. Florence White Stafford, Mrs. A. C. Bowlers, Mrs. L. C. Street, and the incoming president, Mrs. J. R. McDaniel.

Responsibility for the successful event was shared by Mrs. William Roat, social chairman, and her assistants, Mrs. Orval L. Gearhart, Mrs. G. P. Powell's decorating committee, consisting of Miss

Donahue-Quilfoyle Marriage Is Read

Miss Alice Quilfoyle, daughter of Mrs. Michael Quilfoyle of Mendota, and Leslie Donahue, son of the Henry Donahues of Waltham, were married Saturday morning in a nuptial ceremony at Holy Cross Catholic church in Mendota. The Rev. Leo Wissing read the vows at 9 o'clock.

Garden flowers decorated the altar. The church organist played a nuptial prelude, and during offertory, the choir sang an "Ave Maria."

The bride, who walked with her brother, Lawrence Quilfoyle, was dressed in white velvety marquisette, designed with a square neckline, a button-trimmed bodice, and a long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried white roses. Her double strand of pearls was a gift from her bridegroom.

Miss Mary Quilfoyle, her sister's only attendant, wore a gown of powder blue starched chiffon with a halo of pink sweetpeas. Pink roses formed her arm bouquet.

John Murty of Chicago was Mr. Donahue's best man. Ushers were Arthur Quilfoyle and John Donahue.

The bride's mother was attired in dark blue sheer with white accents, and Mr. Donahue's mother chose royal blue print.

Their shoulder corsages contained white flowers.

A wedding breakfast was served in the gold room of the Hotel Faber, following the ceremony. A tiny bride and groom decorated the bride's cake.

Mrs. Donahue has been employed at the Sampel Time control plant in Spring Valley. The bridegroom is with the Oester Implement company in Mendota.

When the couple left on a wedding trip, the bride was wearing a beige suit with white accessories. After their return, they will be at home in Mendota.

The bride wore luggage tan accessories with her beige costume suit, which was trimmed with red fox. Her shoulder spray of lilies of the valley and sweetpeas was centered with Talisman roses.

Mrs. Roger Norton of Rockford, who attended her sister, wore blue crepe with a shoulder bouquet of sweetpeas and roses. Korye Delebak, brother of the bride, was best man.

After a month's stay in the northwest and Canada, the couple will be at home at 107 West Front street, Mt. Morris. ## British Warships in Crete Waters Establish Records

By LARRY ALLEN

Alexandria, Egypt, May 27.—

(AP)—British warships in the waters around Crete wrote a new chapter of courage under one of the heaviest air attacks in history.

Naval sources here said today, when, amid incessant battle against hundreds of Nazi dive-bombers, they prevented the landing by sea of a single German soldier on that island.

Constantly attacked by Nazi fighters dropping 1,000 pound bombs as the ships of the Royal Navy broke up air convoys attempting to reinforce air-borne divisions already on the island, the guns of the British warships turned red-hot firing thousands of shells into the swarms of sky-raiders.

Officers said British battleships, cruisers and destroyers smashing one convoy and scattering a large expeditionary force of 30 vessels flying six-inch and four-inch anti-aircraft shells at swooping dive-bombers continuously from dawn to dusk on May 22.

History-Making

It was a day, they said, which will go down in history as marking one of the biggest aerial assaults ever made upon warships.

Scores of German dive-bombers were shot down by the ships' anti-aircraft batteries, the British said, while the other guns of the fleet were sinking one Italian destroyer and two transports, and blasting swarms of caiques (fishing boats) carrying between 5,000 and 8,000 Nazis—practically all of whom drowned.

One squadron of cruisers and destroyers, they said, broke up an axis convoy of at least 30 vessels with gunfire, forcing its remnants to flee northward toward Greece.

Returning to this Egyptian base aboard a battleship before the big air-battle around Crete began, I learned later from officers of other naval units how the British seamen—even after their fighter aircraft protection had been withdrawn from Crete—gave the Nazis some of the hottest barrages yet seen in this war.

Fire Causes Big Loss in Metamora Downtown

Metamora, Ill., May 27—(AP)—Fire of unknown origin swept through a part of the Metamora business district early today, destroyed several buildings, damaged six others and caused a loss estimated by the owners at from $100,000 to $150,000.

Three volunteer firemen, M. H. Frerichs, Wilbur Hartman, and William Rohman, suffered slight burns.

Fire departments from the nearby towns of Eureka, Washington, Roanoke, and Minonk, were called to help fight the blaze which started in the Lincoln tavern and pool room, which was among the structures destroyed. Other buildings destroyed were a cafe, the A. V. Rohman automobile agency, and the Weirman hardware store and hatchery, where several thousand chicks perished.

The loss at the hardware store alone was estimated at $60,000. The fire came close to but did not damage the court house which houses a museum containing one of the most valuable collections of Lincoln relics in Illinois. Lincoln pleaded some of his cases in Metamora.

Industrialists of Nation Pledge U. S. Full Cooperation

Chicago, May 27.—(AP)—William S. Knudsen, director general of the Office of Production Management, today had from 16,000 industrialists written pledges guaranteeing their cooperation in the nation's defense program.

Knudsen told the rally, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers and the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, that the defense program must proceed at a swift pace without any interference. He asserted that the "defense job is your job and your efforts and those that work with you will win this battle on the industrial front, this battle for democracy and American freedom."

"Let's all have one thought; let's get the job done; let's get it done right, and above all, let's get it done quickly!"

Official Story

weather, but that a United States-built Catalina plane picked up her trail again Sunday before mid-day.

Succession of Attacks

Planes launched from the Ark Royal then pounced on her time and again in a succession of attacks, it was related. It was not claimed that the torpedo-carrying aircraft alone accounted for the Bismarck.

But if they did it was perhaps the first time in military history that a battleship has been sunk from the air. At any rate, the planes were given credit for slowing up the Bismarck and making possible her final destruction.

Alexander said the first telling blows were delivered by the torpedo carriers last night.

There was no evidence that American-made planes did more than the reconnaissance work which trapped the fleeing Bismarck, according to the official account.

Long-Range Scouting Plane

The Catalina, the only American-made plane mentioned, is a long-range scout and patrol flying boat and is not used for torpedo carrying.

One aerial torpedo hit the Bismarck astern, crippling her steering gear, the official account related, and after that she was observed operating at very reduced speed and making "uncontrollable circles."

Then the Prince of Wales, sister ship of the King George V, and the other pursuing ships closed in for the kill. High officials said it appeared the final blow was delivered by gunfire, and not by the torpedo carriers.

It was ironical that planes from the Ark Royal played a major part in bringing the Bismarck to account. The Ark Royal was to have been sunk by the Germans to have been sunk.

Located in Norse Port

The Bismarck and the Eugen first were discovered by British scouting planes last Wednesday at Bergen, Norway, and the next day they were found to have left. The Royal Navy sent powerful units to intercept them, as the official account put it, because it appeared probable they were bent on breaking out into the Atlantic ocean with the view to striking at our convoys from the United States.

That night the Royal Fleet got a glimpse of the German monster as they were passing through the Strait of Denmark, 250 miles stretch of water between Greenland and Iceland.

With Saturday's dawn the Hood and Prince of Wales intercepted the Bismarck and Eugen, and the Hood was struck at about 23,000 yards by a shell which penetrated her magazine and blew her to pieces.

Weather Intervened

The British were said to have kept in touch with the Germans throughout Saturday and laid plans to bring them to battle at dawn yesterday, but these plans were interrupted by bad weather. "Yesterday shortly before mid-day," the official account went on, "a Catalina aircraft, one of the considerable number of those very far reaching scouting planes which have been sent to by the U. S. A., picked up the Bismarck and it was seen that she was making for a French port—Brest or St. Nazaire, and on this further rapid dispositions were made by the Admiralty."

"We may say that the moment she was known to be at sea the whole apparatus of our ocean control came into play and very far combinations began to work x x." With the loss of the Hood, Britain was left with 15 battleships and battle cruisers, the number she had in commission when the war started.

The gap left by the sinking of the Hood and the battleship Royal Oak, torpedoed by a Nazi U-boat at Scapa Flow early in the war, has been filled by two new battleships, the King George V and the Prince of Wales, 35,000-ton sisterships.

Germany entered the conflict with five battleships and pocket battleships and now, with the Bismarck gone, reckoned by the British to have three in service.

She lost the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee by scuttling in December, 1939, at Montevideo, and the British say the battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau have been damaged repeatedly by the R.A.F. since they holed in several weeks ago at Brest, France.

Since the war started the Germans have commissioned the Bismarck, and also may have put the Tirpitz, her sistership into service.

Audience Expected To Hear FDR Tonight

New York, May 27—(The Special News Service)—A listening audience of a size heretofore unequalled is expected by broadcasters for tonight's "fireside chat" by President Roosevelt via all networks at 8:30 p. m. CST.

In addition to the regular units of the NBC, CBS and MBS chains comprising approximately 525 stations, numerous non-network stations throughout the country are to join in.

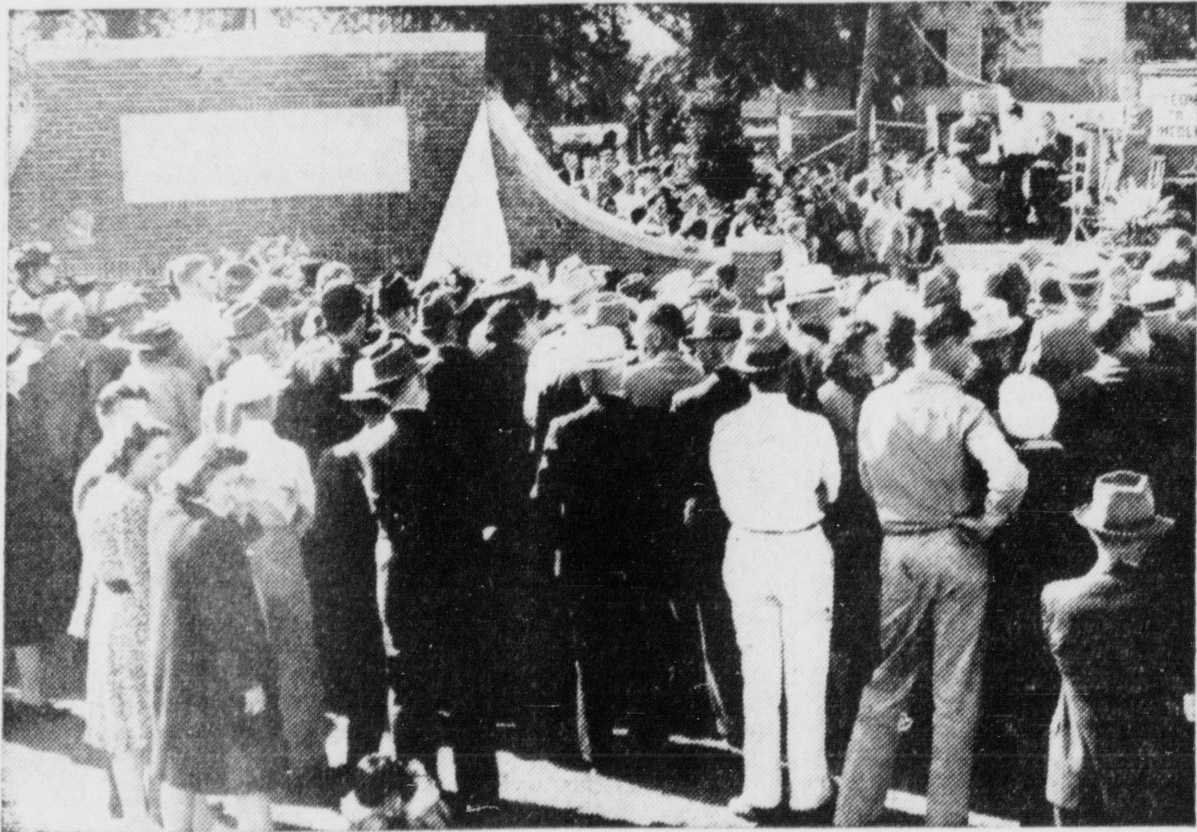

The broadcast will extend world-wide via short wave over a dozen or more stations, and Latin-American countries have made arrangements for relay to their listeners. Besides the direct English there will be translations in German, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese, and also later relays to correspond with local time in overseas countries.

Destroyer of Hood

Authoritative quarters in London said the 35,000-ton battleship Prince of Wales, sister ship of the King George V, participated in the flaming sea battle when sent the Bismarck to her doom.

High official quarters in London subsequently announced that "measures are being taken" to deal with the German cruiser Prince Eugen, which had been escorting the Bismarck.

Presumably the complement of 1,300 to 1,500 officers and men on board—about the same number carried by the Hood.

Sinking of the Bismarck presumably left Germany with only three capital ships—the brand-new 35,000-ton Tirpitz, sister ship of the Bismarck; and the Gneisenau and the Scharnhorst, both 26,000 tons, which the British say have been repeatedly bombed in Brest harbor, Nazi-occupied France, since mid-March.

This swift revenge came to the British for the sinking of the 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hood, pride of the British navy, which was blown to bits Saturday by a shell hit in her powder magazine during a clash with the Bismarck.

The admiral had announced last night that a British naval plane had damaged the Bismarck with a torpedo hit—apparently slowing up the speedy sea raider until pursuing British warships could close in for the kill.

A terse communique by the German high command declared early today that the Bismarck was engaged by "overwhelming forces" in a battle that already had lasted four hours.

Crete Offensive Boistered The Germans reported that a steady stream of reinforcements had bolstered their offensive in Crete where a drive—possibly to be brought to a climax by an attack with tanks the Germans ferried to the island by plane—was developing near the Capital, Candia.

That city, like Candia and Retimo, was reported by the British to be in ruins from Nazi bombing.

The British regarded the Nazi thrust toward Candia from the Malei airport 10 miles to the southwest as a desperate attempt to gain a landing place for seaborne troops and supplies.

The British reported their own air force taking a hand in the fight, bombing Nazi troop-carriers as they landed and fighting them in the air.

The number of beauty parlors increased 35.4 percent from 1935 to 1940—61,555 to 83,071, while the number of barber shops decreased from 121,000 to 118,000, according to the census.

The War Today

forcing us into the conflict. Germany doesn't want war with Uncle Sam at this critical juncture. Herr Hitler naturally would be delighted to see us at war with Japan in the East East, so to dissipate our forces and hamper our aid to the allies, but he has all he wants on his hands already in the European theater.

The Nazi chief recognizes that in all probability he is going to win or lose the war this summer. That doesn't necessarily mean that peace will be signed so soon, but that the outcome will be determined.

He recognizes, too, that the outcome depends on American aid to the allies. Without our help Britain and her supporters cannot win.

As a matter of fact, Britain's position is exceedingly serious as she waits for our production to get going full blast to supply her with sinews of war without which she must go under. We can make it even stronger, and say that if vital supplies do not reach her in the immediate future she will be in grave straits.

No wonder then, that as Hitler presses in for the kill his great thought is to halt the American supplies which are keeping him from victory.

Thus it is that Germany not only claims conveying would be an act of war, but even asserts that our patrol system is a belligerent action. Washington takes the position that such a patrol for the protection of the western hemisphere is within the law.

A month ago President Roosevelt made our position very clear on this point of patrols. In one of his press conferences he said in substance that for a year and a half vessels of the neutrality patrol had been operating as far as 1,000 miles into the Atlantic from the eastern shore of Maryland.

During that time the patrol had been extended here, and had been pulled in there. He said it was being extended and would be extended from time to time.

The extension would go as far into the Seven Seas as was necessary for hemisphere defense. A patrol wouldn't necessarily be confined to the Atlantic. This is the position as we await Roosevelt's fireside chat, which is of such great importance as to for some days.

Bowen (HB 241)—Makes it a misdemeanor for a person to issue any demand in garnishment without first obtaining a judgment.

Hunter (HB 267)—Limits salaries of highway commissioners in townships of 100,000 population to a maximum of $10 a day.

Mills (HB 167)—Provides that salaries of county superintendents shall be based upon the population of counties as shown in 1940 census instead of 1930 census.

Paul Haak of Chicago, driver of the bus, was forced to steer his vehicle, laden with passengers into the ditch on the south side of the highway to avoid a head-on collision with the auto, which struck it in the side then careened into the ditch and rolled over. None of the bus passengers was injured.

At the last census, the total annual U. S. output of canned vegetables was reported at 1555 million cases, ranging from 24 to 48 cans to the case.

Seek Speedy Settlement Of Differences Over Ag Appropriation Bill

Washington, May 27—(AP)—With loans equal to 85 per cent of parity prices assured on major farm crops, congressional leaders sought today a speedy settlement of outstanding differences between Senate and House over the 1941-42 agricultural appropriation bill.

The big supply bill, carrying $890,284,037 when it passed the House and boosted to $1,340,622,744 by the Senate, has been tied up in a joint conference committee awaiting final disposition of the parity loan bill which President Roosevelt signed yesterday.

The House had approved $212,000,000 for parity payments, but the Senate increased the amount to $150,000,000, of which $150,000,000 would be spent on this year's crops.

Senators Russell (D-Ga) and Bankhead (D-Ala), leaders in the fight for the Senate increase said, however, that there was now no need for the larger amount since the signing of the loan bill.

Coupled with $500,000,000 in soil conservation payments, they estimated that the $212,000,000 approved by the House would be sufficient to make up the difference between the 85 per cent loan and full parity prices.

Hillman Accused of 'Stimulating' Ship Yards Strike Today

Charges Made Against Associated Head of OPM by IMU Chief

(By The Associated Press)
An American Federation of Labor official charged before a senate defense investigating committee today that Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Management, had a part in "stimulating" a strike in the Vultee Aircraft Manufacturing plant in California.

Harvey Brown, president of the International Machinists Union, testifying in Washington on the San Francisco shipyard strike, commented that a government representative, who he said was sent by Hillman, had interfered with the union's attempt to iron out difficulties at the Vultee plant.

vice president of the C. I. O. but has been in the Office of Production Management since it was established.

Expulsion Urged

Earlier Senator Truman (D-Mo) chairman of the committee, had proposed to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, that the federation expell the International Machinists Association from its ranks for approving the machinists' strike which tied up $500,000,000 worth of shipbuilding in the San Francisco area.

Green said expulsion would be "extreme steps" and expressed the opinion persuasion might accomplish more. Truman retorted, "we've been persuading with them for two weeks." Green expressed opposition to government seizure of property and federal regulation of labor in defense industries. He said the federation had no authority to halt the San Francisco strike.

The army estimated today that 2,023,316 man-days of work were lost through strikes in plants handling war department orders from January 1 to shop-closing time last night.

Service statisticians estimated that if the 2,000,000 man-days had been worked, they could have contributed 44,500 Garand semi-automatic rifles or 285 light tanks to the defense effort.

Yesterday it was estimated, 25,800 men were idle in labor disputes in plants handling army contracts.

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) revealed that, in hope of getting a favorable house vote sometime in June, he would revise his proposed legislation to compel mediation of labor disputes before strikes could be called, to provide only for a 30-day cooling off period. Originally his measure proposed freezing existing closed shop agreements.

Churchmen Gather in Chicago Today To Hunt for Peace

Many Faiths Represented in 1000 Delegates to Conference

Chicago, May 27.—(AP)—Men of many faiths came to Chicago today to search for peace.

Chinese, Japanese, Americans of various denominations, they were to participate in an "exploratory conference on the basis of a just and enduring peace" called by the Methodist Commission on World Peace.

"In the interest of Christian fellowship and concentration upon this problem," the commission announced, "discussions on pacifism, aid to Britain, and America's entry into the war are being omitted."

The Rev. Charles F. Boss, Jr., secretary of the conference, explained that many of the speakers invited to the conference held conflicting views on these questions.

1,000 To Participate
"Leaders of the peace conference are not being chosen on the basis of particular philosophies," he went on, "but on their capacity for significant contributions to the solutions necessary in Asia, South America and Europe and in general international cooperation in the interest of a just and enduring peace."

The opening session will begin at 2 p. m. with worship and a keynote address by Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Boston, who will

Greater Civilian Service Reserve Officers Exclude

Greater service to his country in a civilian capacity is the only valid excuse that will relieve an officer of the Organized Reserve Corps from his military obligations, Maj. Gen. C. H. Bonesteel, serve as general chairman of the conference.

Boss said 1,000 churchmen from all parts of the country were expected to take part in the sessions. He listed the objectives of the conference as an exploration of the diverse angles of the peace problem from the point of view of Christian faith, finding a common ground upon which Christians may unite in exploring plans for the post-war order, cooperation with the Federal Council of Churches, commanding the Sixth Corps Area, with headquarters in Chicago, declared today.

"The primary value of the Reserve military organization and the justification of the effort and expense involved in its military education and training lies in its immediate availability in an emergency," said Gen. Bonesteel. "The Army recognizes the contribution being made to the national defense by educational institutions engaged in the training of technical personnel necessary in industry. A member of the Officers' Reserve Corps who is a recognized technical college or university, therefore, may be placed in an inactive military status upon the request of the president or executive head of the school."

Reserves Judgment
Gen. Bonesteel pointed out, however, that the War Department reserves the right to approve or disapprove requests for deferment from active duty whenever the military service of individual officers is considered necessary.

"It must be clearly shown," Gen. Bonesteel said, "that an officer is definitely a key member of a school's faculty actually engaged in the instruction primarily of junior or senior students; that these students when graduated are necessary in the production of national defense items of equipment or supply, and that the officer can not be satisfactorily replaced."

The Rockets played errorless ball... it was that old Sterling-Dixon rivalry aflame again as the Rockets are really a Sterling club."

BRIDEGROOM DON BUDGE BEGINS DEFENSE TODAY OF PRO TENNIS CROWN

Chicago, May 27—(AP)—J. Donald Budge, a bridegroom of 24 hours, begins the defense of his world's professional tennis championship today against John Faunce of Hollywood at the Chicago Town and Tennis club.

Budge, who has won all the major net titles as amateur and pro, married Miss Dierdre Connelman of Glendale, Calif., a Stanford university co-ed, yesterday, after he had drawn a bye in the first round of the tourney.

The California redhead's tourney debut shares the spotlight with the singles match between Vincent Richards, New York, and Karel Kozeluh, Greenwich, Conn., both former pro champions. Dick Skeen, Hollywood, plays Dan Watson, Chevy Chase, Md., Les Stofen, Los Angeles, meets Joe Whalen, Coral Gables, Fla., and Fred Perry, Beverly Hills, Calif., as "the forty-niners."

Tilden and Richards were easy victors in the doubles over the Chicago team, Ed Underwood and Louis Volpe, Jr., 6-0, 6-1, 6-1, and Skeen and Faunce combined to trouble Kozeluh and Whalen, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

City's Supervised Playgrounds Will Open June 9

MARY TROMBOLD TO HEAD STAFF OF DIRECTORS

Variety Program to Include Activities for Children

Again this season, starting June 9, the Dixon Park Commission will supervise summer recreational activities at four local playgrounds in an effort to encourage sportsmanship, healthy living and athletic endeavor among the younger generation.

This year Miss Mary Trombold, teacher at Lincoln school, will be playground director and will be assisted by John Jensen and a staff composed of Miss Lorraine Giannoni, Miss Betty Riley and Miss Laura Williams.

As a graduate of the University of Illinois and director of girls' athletics at Lincoln school, Miss Trombold is well equipped for her new duties. John Jensen, her assistant, is a student at Drake university where he is majoring in physical education and has a long line of outstanding records as an athlete of Dixon high school.

Four Playgrounds. Playgrounds open to children this year will be located at E. C. Smith, Reynolds field, John Dixon and South Dement parks. Other centers of play will include the city tennis courts at the high school, Lowell park and the roller rink.

The week's program will include hikes on Wednesdays, skating Thursday afternoons, tennis Thursday mornings and days at Lowell park on Tuesdays and Fridays. Playground hours are from 9 o'clock in the morning until 11:45 and from 1 o'clock until 4 p. m. five days a week.

Specialized play will include supervision in baseball, shuffleboard, croquet, badminton, horse-shoes, darts, volley ball, jacks, cards, tennis, folk dancing, dramatics (coached by Miss Giannoni), stories, basketball, marbles, track and swimming.

This season, the fifth in the city playground activities, the park commission will again furnish transportation for the children to and from the recreation centers and to Lowell park. Each child is given special care and attention with the result that protection is the best possible and should assure parents that their children are safe.

Billy Conn Says He'll Treat Joe As He Did Knox

Pittsburgh, May 26.—(AP)—Billy Conn, waltzing light heavyweight champ stalking Joe Louis, points proudly to his eighth-round technical knockout triumph over Buddy Knox, Dayton, Ohio, heavyweight, as a sample of what he "will give Joe Louis next month."

"I've had the workout I needed now and I'm ready for the Bomber," asserted Billy a few minutes after his thumping lefts and rights floored Knox three times and beat him into helplessness last night before Pittsburgh's largest fight crowd of 27,043 spectators.

Billy, weighing 180, was 10 pounds lighter than his 21-year-old opponent. He started so slowly against Knox that Promoter Mike Jacobs could be seen writhing in his ringside seat as he debated whether this was the man to face Louis.

Then, almost without warning in the fifth, Conn's flicking left suddenly became a bolt that started the Ohioan's head bobbing. Knox slipped to his knees after one of them hit him below the heart in the sixth but got up without a count.

But the next round a series of four lefts to the head backed Buddy into a corner and a right dropped him for a nine count. He came up into a fresh storm of leather and again flopped for a toll of eight. The third time he left the canvas after a nine count.

He couldn't get off his seat for the eighth.

Before the battle Jacobs, promoter of the June 18 Conn-Louis battle in New York, had indicated he might listen to demands that Buddy Baer be substituted for Billy Conn in June unless Conn proved his rights against Knox.

Conn's hometown stand brought him the biggest purse of his career—a 33 1/3 per cent slice of the $68,000 house.

More than 15 million cases of canned and bottled fruit juices and nearly 14 million cases of tomato juice and cocktail are made each year by U. S. canners, says the Census Bureau.

Fifty million cases of canned fruit is the annual output of U. S. canners, Census Bureau records reveal. Peaches lead with over 12 million cases.

Production of plows for tractor use has passed production of horse-drawn plows in the U. S. according to the census.

DIXON TENNIS TEAM LOSES AT MORRISON

Like the British stalked the battleship Bismark, the Morrison tennis players were awaiting the Dixon Dukes yesterday and they blasted the local ship of state into a 7 to 1 sinking. It was the hosts' revenge for a previous 5 to 3 loss to the Dixon netmen.

Regarded as one of the strongest tennis teams in the state the Morrison hosts yesterday won all but on singles match and Ted Mason of the Dukes was the only point-getter for the invaders.

Jim McKim, state semi-finalist, whipped Red McNamera of Dixon with set scores of 6-4 and 6-1. Kromrey turned back Minnihan and a first set struggle with scores of 8-6 and 6-0. Ned Sack of the Dukes bowed to Shuman, 1-6 and 1-6 while Mason of Dixon used the same scores (6-1 and 6-1) to turn back Bell.

Bull of Morrison forced Goff into retreat with scores of 6-3 and 6-4. Peterson found the going tough, but finally defeated Eustace Shaw of Dixon in a close second set with final counts of 6-2 and 8-6.

In the doubles Shuman and Kromrey of the hosts defeated the McNamera-Sack tandem 7-5 and 6-3 and the Morrison boys won the final sets 6-0 and 6-1 as Minnihan and Mason bowed to McKim and Bull.

CLIFF SPENCER LEADS IN DISTRICT QUALIFYING FOR NATIONAL OPEN GOLF MEET

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. New York, May 27.—(AP)—Cliff Spencer, the long-driving Washington pro who never has invaded the field of big-time golf, had his day of glory yesterday when he led all the qualifiers for the National Open championship at Fort Worth, Tex., June 5, 6 and 7.

Playing over the Columbia Country club course, the 35-year-old Spencer fired rounds of 68 and 69 for a 36-hole total of 137. That not only put him four strokes ahead of the 28 other golfers in his own district, but topped the entire list of more than 1,000 who yesterday sought the 128 places available in the national tourney.

Known as one of the longest drivers in the game, Spencer's previous successes had been in local affairs.

The next-best score turned in at 27 district qualifying locations was 70-69—139 made at Birmingham, Ala., by Sam Perry, a little amateur star who led, among others, national amateur champion Dick Chapman, Jimmy Demaret, who paced the powerful New York district field, Eddie Held at St. Louis, amateur Jack Tinnin at Dallas and George Schneider at Salt Lake City turned in 140's.

From there the successful scores ranged up to 163, which, through the withdrawal of three players, who did better at Minneapolis, was good enough to get Howard Clasen of Duluth into the fold. In most districts it took 150 or better to qualify.

Only a few of the really prominent players who had to shoot their way into the main field failed to do it. Notable among these were Ky Laffoon, Jack Hutchison, Sr., and amateur Art Doering at Chicago, where Johnny Bullas 147 was good enough to top 12 qualifiers; Joe Turnesa and Jimmy Thomson at New York; Rod Munday and Tom Sheehan at Detroit; Zell Eaton at Tulsa and Willie Hunter, Fay Coleman and Ellis-worth Vines at Los Angeles.

RACE DRIVERS PROTEST TWO FRENCH CARS BEING PERMITTED ON SPEEDWAY

Indianapolis, May 27.—(AP)—Two eight-cylinder Talbot Special racing automobiles from France will be allowed on the Indianapolis motor speedway over protest of American drivers.

Chief Steward Ted Doescher said last night that their drivers, Rene Lebeque and Jean Trevoeux, would be permitted to try to qualify them and to drive them in the 500-mile race Friday if they succeeded.

A drivers' committee complained to Doescher yesterday that speedway regulations had been disregarded in that the Talbots had not been weighed nor put through tests for structural defects.

The committee said that when they were taken onto the track first on Sunday, they were under the weight limit.

Doescher and Col. Art Herrington, chairman of the speedway technical committee, said the Talbots had been tested, Russell Snowberger of Detroit, head of the drivers' committee, said if the protest was disregarded the drivers planned "to do something about it."

Only 3 Places Open. Only three places in the starting lineup of 33 cars for the race were open today.

Two cars qualified yesterday by driving the field up to 50, and additional qualifying trials were scheduled today (3 to 7 p. m. C. S. T.) Yesterday's qualifiers were a four-cylinder car driven by Joie Chitwood, Cherokee Indian from Topeka, Kan., and an eight-cylinder speedster driven by Louis Du-rant of Hollywood, Calif.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, May 27.—(The Special News Service)—The Baer-Louis fight pictures furnished plenty of fuel for the controversy which still rages. Texas U. expects to collect plenty fat dividends from Coach Dana X. Bible's $15,000-per-year salary in the next two years. Joseph Paul DiMaggio III is scheduled to report in October and it's a safe bet that Ed Barrow will be right there at the ringside—pardon—criside, with a blank Yankee contract. DOUBLE BILL ATTRACTS CHICAGO'S BOXING FANS. Chicago, May 27.—(APP)—Al Host, k. Seattle challenger, and rugged Tony Zale of Gary, Ind., swap punches tomorrow night for the middleweight championship (N. B. A. variety), but that attraction alone doesn't explain the big advance sale.

Many of the boxing customers who already have put $40,000 in the till are going to see Booker Beckwith, wicked puncher of Bary, battle Solly Krieger, Brooklyn veteran and ex-middleweight champion himself.

Beckwith, a wiry, iron-fisted Negro, has captured the imagination of midwestern ring fans as few fighters have in recent years. Many seasoned observers believe that Beckwith is on the way to the light-heavyweight title.

Krieger and the Gary youngster are scheduled to go 10 rounds in the semi-final to the title engagement.

STEWART IS WINNER IN FINAL GAME

Ending their season with five wins in six games, the members of the Steward high school baseball nine yesterday nosed out Malta, 9 to 7, on the losers' diamond.

It was the second time this season the Steward boys have defeated Malta, having won 4 to 3, earlier in the schedule.

Steward took an early lead with two runs in the first inning and three in the second before Malta scored two runs in the third. Steward increased the lead to 7 to 4 at the close of the fifth frame and scored two more runs to Malta's three in the final and sixth chapter.

Among the extra base hits were two doubles by Kirby of the winners and two by O'Donnell of Malta. Male of Malta and Cole of Steward each got one two-sacker.

Kirby, pitching for Steward, allowed seven hits, walked two and struck out 12. P. Almborg was on the mound for Malta and permitted nine hits, walked three and whiffed nine.

BULLA CAPTURES MEDAL HONORS IN QUALIFYING TEST

Chicago Golfer Who Has Played Here Shoots 72-75 for 147

Johnny Bulla, Chicago pro who has played at the Dixon Country club several times and as recently as a few weeks ago when he was nosed out by Ralph Stonehouse in a match with the local pro, captured the medal honors yesterday in the district qualifying for the National Open, although his best effort was seven strokes over par for the tough Mendinah No. 1 and No. 3 courses.

According to an Associated Press dispatch today Bulla shot a 72-75 for 147, three strokes ahead of E. J. Harrison and Wild Bill Mohlhorn. The other nine qualifiers in this district were Marshall Springer, Chicago amateur, 152; Jim Milward, Madison, Wis., 152; Denny Shute, Chicago, 152; Harry Cooper, Chicago, 153; Sam Bernardi, Chicago, 153; Abe Epperson, Decatur, Ill., 153; Bob McDonald, Chicago, 153; Charles Penna, Chicago, 153; Byron Chamberlain, Chicago, 154.

Cardinals Chop Down Cubs, 12-11

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer The only club in the National League that packs dynamite at the plate is that swashbuckling crew bossed by Billy Southworth in St. Louis.

Others set off big firecrackers sometimes, but the league leaders really have the boom-boom that means heavy blasting. The Cardinals are young and fast, make lots of mistakes and occasionally beat themselves. However, they have had more "big innings" this spring than any other team in the senior circuit and they are dangerous right up to the final out in every game.

They proved it again yesterday by chopping down the Chicago Cubs, 12-11, with two home runs in the eleventh inning.

The Cards took a 9-0 lead in the first three innings, scoring seven times in the third, but came apart in the next stanza to let the Cubs get six runs and eventually take the lead, 10-9, in the seventh. In the last of the ninth Don Padgett doubled home the tying run. In the 11th Bill Nicholson homered to put the Cubs ahead again but Jim Brown, who had doubled with the bases loaded in the third, hit a home run to tie the score and Padgett followed immediately with another round-tripped.

This was the Cards' seventh straight victory.

The Brooklyn Dodgers were presented with a 6-4 triumph by the humble Phillies when Center-fielder Joe Marty dropped a fly with the bases loaded in the fifth and Shortstop Bob Bragan made a wild relay on the same play. The combination of errors allowed three scores.

The veteran Fred Fitzsimmons made his first start of the year for the Dodgers and received credit for the
